taken as a stepping-stone to something higher, his aspirations being the United States Senate. There will be a beautiful crop of candidates for the latter position after the Legislature meets.

The coming Legislature will contain quite a number of able and influential men, such as could not possibly be elected under extreme Radical rule. The Senate, especially, will embrace more than an ordinary proportion of experienced and cultivated men, so that body will compare fayorably with any similar one in the country.

The Knoxville Whig, of yesterday, in carefully-prepared articlese, estimates that Senter's majority will be at least 60,000, and that it may not be considered surprising if it reaches over 100,000.

The State Journal, of this afternoon, publishes a dispatch dated the 24th inst., from Postmaster General Creswell to W. B. Stokes, in which he says: Belleving you to be the true representative of the Republican party of Tennessee, I earnestly advocate your election, and trust that every sound Republican in your State will rally enthusiastically to your support. The Memphis Post, hitherto neutral in for Stokes, the outrageous violations of law in reference to the registration of votes in West Tennessee having driven nearly all the Republicans in that section from Senter's support. The Knoxville Whig, hitherto strongly Senter, is seriously alarmed, and denounces the

THE fact that Secretaries Boutwell and Crosswell have written open letters everything else:

The fact that Secretaries Boutwell and Crosswell have written open letters favoring Stokes in Tennessee shows by plain implication another fact, viz., that the President has declined to interfere in his behiaff. This is, indeed, well known in political circles at Washington. While, therefore, one portion of the Cabinet and the President are against him, the favor of the two Secretaries will not greatly help Stokes in the brief period now to elapse before the election. If there were time enough, the patronage of the Treasury and Post Office might effect something; but there is not time enough for that; while the moral support of the two Secretaries will be more than counterbalanced by the evident fact that the President does not conour with them.

It seems hard though (since only dead men can be trusted to do this kind of service) that so much should be required of one. There are a great many dead people in this country and a large number of them illustrious. This being the case it seems hardly fair that old Mr. Washington should be compelled to do the ornamental work for everything lesued by the Government—postage stamps, fractional currency, no harm could come to the Republic by postage stamps, fractional currency greenbacks, &c., &c.
